ROOSTER KILLS RAT.

A strange combat was witnessed in Darby, Mass., yesterday morning between a black Minorca rooster, belonging to William Crumbach, and a large sewer rat, which was attempting to carry away one of Crumbach's small chickens. In broad daylight, evidently emboldened by hunger, the rodent made its appearance among the flock and was in the act of carrying a young chicken off, when the rooster saw it. The parent bird made a rush at the thief and struck it with its wings and spurs. The rat leaped sideways at the next onslaught, and then finding the rooster determined to give battle, it dropped its prey and for the next minutes both fought the battle of their lives. The rat avoided the sharp spurs of the rooster as much as possible, and as soon as an attack was delivered it would rush in and attempt to fasten its teeth on the cock's throat. The rooster would jump several feet in the air and shake off the rat. Finally the rooster succeeded in putting out one of the rat's eyes, and then it knocked the rat right and left until the rodent ran into its hole where it died.

WEALTHY ITALIAN KILLED.

After a quarrel in which five men took part in the barber shop of Ignazio Guidi, Monroe street, New York, yesterday afternoon, the men backed into the street and one of them fired three shots from a .38-caliber revolver. Another of the men was hit in the back of the head by one of the bullets and died on the way to a hospital. The barber's assistant was arrested, but the man who did the shooting got away.

Francisco Grimi—Rinaldi is the name of the man shot. He was a wealthy Sicilian importer of wines and olive oil. He had just come out of the barber shop when a young Italian named Alfredo Ventingiano walked up to him and said something in an undertone. Rinaldi swung his arms and slapped the young man's face.

The boy drew back, pulled a big revolver from his hip pocket, and fired three times. The first clipped Rinaldi's thumb, the second entered the side of the merchant's head, just above the brim of his Panama hat, and the third struck him in the abdomen.

The dead man had been in this country about two years. In Sicily he was reputed to have been a brigand and one of the more powerful members of the Camorra. It was also said that he was an ex-convict, having served thirteen years in Italy for some particular act of brigandage.

Ventingiano, a young Sicilian gambler and ne'er-do-well, had been in love with Rinaldi's daughter Jennie, much to Rinaldi's disgust. Jennie went to Boston several days ago to visit her uncle. Ventingiano had proposed to her before she went, and had provisionally been accepted. The girl's father had become enraged when he learned this, and Monday afternoon ordered the young Sicilian from the house. The murderer escaped.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of Dr. Williams' Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

WAR AGAINST BAD MILK.

The products of their insubstantial dairies barred out of Richmond, dairymen in several Virginia counties are marketing milk, cream and butter in Charlottesville and Washington. This information came to the headquarters of the Health Department in Richmond yesterday.

Dairy Inspector Curtis has just completed a tour of the country along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, visiting the dairies that ship milk, butter and other products into Richmond under permits issued by the health commission and approved by the health chief. Fifteen dairies were inspected, of which number nine were found to be in good condition.

Six were placed under the ban, and their permits to ship into Richmond held up. They are now shipping their products to Washington and Charlottesville.

Kodol will without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorders or stomach troubles. Take Kodol today and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kodol is sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

CARBOLIC ACID FAVORITE POISON.

A wave of suicides has swept over Pittsburg during the last ten days. From July 8 to 18 fifteen persons killed themselves in Pittsburg and six others made attempts, some of which will be fatal. Of the twenty-one eleven used carbolic acid, five revolvers, two poison, one jumped from a bridge, one jumped from a window and one cut his throat.

Four of the suicides were caused by intense grief, two young girls killed themselves because of love affairs, two men because of financial reverses and four because of ill health, while the others were caused by despondency. On Friday, July 17, with a low barometer, three persons killed themselves and one made an attempt to commit suicide.

DROWNED AT THREE SISTERS.

Albert Thompson, 23 years old, of Washington, was drowned in the Potomac river, near the Virginia shore opposite the Three Sister Islands, a short distance above Georgetown, yesterday afternoon. Thompson, with three companions, Eugene Rhodes, Daniel Sheehy, and Donald Lippold, left Aqueduct bridge at 2 o'clock for a trip up the river. They had a frail row boat, which hardly held the four men. When about 50 yards from the Three Sisters, Rhodes, Sheehy, and Lippold donned bathing suits and plunged into the water. Thompson, who could not swim, remained in the boat, rowing about, when the boat sprang a leak, and began to fill. Thompson shouted to his companions but they did not hear him. The boat became waterlogged, and turned turtle, throwing Thompson into the water. His shouts this time attracted his companions, who vainly tried to rescue the drowning man.
